From the President

It is with enormous sadness that I report the passing of Greg Newlyn, always great company and a great stalwart of the RAAF Staff College Association, Australian Aviation Club and the Air Traffic Control community.

Greg will be greatly missed by all who had the good fortune to know him, and in particular by his loving wife, Gloria to whom we extend our condolences.

Details of Greg's funeral arrangements will be posted on the Folded Wings page of the RAAF Staff College Association website as soon as they come to hand.

In case any of us needed a reminder, Greg's passing highlights that life is finite. It's too late to tell someone how much we miss them when they are gone. Let those important to you know how much you value them today - they might not be here tomorrow.

Ian
